THE QUESTIONS EXPERIENCE

The modern world can be extremely stressful. It feels like everyone is pulled in all directions; work, bills, confused relationships, and so on. Not only, the institutions of faith and meaning seem to have a declining influence in our society. Nothing from outside seems to have any significant impact on our lives, compounding stress and confusion. True meaningful change has to come from within or through connection to a higher power, but how do we get there? People from all walks of life have answered these amazing eight questions, and experienced wonderful awakenings and thrilling, life altering breakthroughs in the process. Such is the power of The Questions Experience.

Each Questions Experience results in breathtaking breakthroughs for all involved. Through each encounter the range of emotion is from tears to laughter, anger to joy, confusion to clarity, and everything in between.
There has never been more interest, appetite and demand for meaningful, aspirational content. As more and more become interested, involved in,
and ready for positive change, now is the time to put this on television and contribute to a spiritual awakening that embraces both the religious and secular world.

From
Tears to laughter anger to joy Confusion
to clarity

Each episode begins with a pre-produced profile on the featured guest. We follow them around in their world, documentary-style, where the host asks questions about his or her life, while cutting between confessional-style interviews. We get a backstory, we learn about them through the people in the guest's life; co-workers, siblings, loved ones, and so on. We see how the Questions Experience might change their life and we learn what holds he or she back in their own words, and we imagine what he or she ultimately can achieve.

backstory

Then The Questions Experience begins. The guest has a one-on-one session where Randy Lennon guides the guest through The Questions. We then cut back and forth between them during The Questions session, which is shot in studio, and confessional-style interview remarks about the session (shot just after the session has completed). We learn first hand what was going through the minds of the guest, we see how and why The Questions forced them to confront what has stopped them and the drama of this new awareness unfolding.

A man with reddish-brown hair, wearing a light blue button-down shirt, is sitting outdoors. He is holding a blue ceramic mug with both hands and looking down at it with a thoughtful expression. The background is a blurred outdoor setting with green trees and a building.

awareness

The episode ends with a follow up back with the guest in their world, about one month later. We see how The Questions has changed the guest's life for the better, how they've managed stress, and found joy and fulfillment. During each episode, viewers at home can ask themselves these questions, learn more about themselves, and grow in the comfort and privacy of home. They can also visit The Questions website and interact with other viewers and even reach out for help through referrals to professional resources.

change

The Questions Experience session is conducted by Randy Lennon who brings the broad experience of a diverse career in newspaper publishing, recording artist management, retail, advertising and marketing, and the Internet. Randy has also worked as a police officer, regional and national television and radio talk show host, starred in a situation comedy pilot, and worked as a special advisor to the leader of a major national political party in Ottawa. One of Randy's passions is sharing "The Questions Experience", which has evolved as the direct result of his own inner journey of personal development. Over the past 25 years Randy has recruited hundreds of people and participated in dozens of transformational workshops in Alberta, BC, Ontario, California, Colorado and Washington State. He has been a featured speaker and trainer to groups as large as 5,000 in six Canadian provinces and three US states.

Dr. Geoff Tunnicliffe

Dr. Geoff Tunnicliffe - Geoff was formerly the Secretary General / CEO of the World Evangelical Alliance, leading a group of more than 600 million Christians. Since leaving that post Geoff has been heavily involved in the media world, most notably as an advisor to MGM Television, a board member for Yes TV and Tricord Distribution, the Chairman of the Board of Advisors for Christian Media Corporation International, and a Global Strategist for Pureflix.

Hannah Borrego

Hannah studied Photojournalism and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Hawaii. Her work in television and passion for travel has taken her from a research fellowship at the Smithsonian in Washington DC - to living on a glacier in remote Alaska, working a plantation in Papua New Guinea, to a sailboat in the Virgin Islands. With a strong background in story and multi-camera directing, she thrives on challenging projects and diverse locations.

Hannah has worked with HGTV, National Geographic, FOX, SYFY, DIY, and Lifetime networks, among others.

As the show grows in popularity, it can go on the road and engage groups or communities in need of help. These could include struggling businesses, dysfunctional families, women's shelters, prisons, juvenile detention facilities, addiction treatment centers, and so on; wherever people need help helping themselves. So join us, join Randy Lennon, take the Questions Experience, and let's empower a new spiritually based and surprisingly simple self help phenomenon.

For an example of how powerful this experience can be, here is a testimonial from Connie who attended Randy Lennon's most recent workshop:

"I begin with saying how appreciative I am for this somewhat challenging yet simple arrangement of questions that focused on my own experiences and beliefs. I enjoyed the relaxing leadership of Randy Lennon, we were all comfortable with his presentation style, so I would have liked the session to last even longer. The personal questions that Randy covered with me led me to receive more from the Lord the following day. What a surprise when I was given a different perspective of my challenge I shared the day before! There is no end to how God will speak to us, if we want to hear.
